Re: Recognizing concentrations on student transcripts

Change:

Where appropriate, print a graduate's "concentration" on the transcript.

• Concentrations will be indicated for all major/sub-specialties on the attached list.

Definition:

• A "concentration" is an optional or required set of courses within a major that constitutes a sub-specialty within the discipline. In practice, sub-specialties have a minimum of 12 credits.

Background:

- At present, WOU prints the major on an undergraduate student's diploma.
- We print the major, minor and any certificates on the undergraduate student's transcript. We do not print concentrations.
- Students have expressed concern that their concentration is not listed on the transcript, as that is information they would like to have officially acknowledged. We agree that it is to our students' benefit to include this information on transcripts.

Terminology:

- Presently at WOU we use a variety of other terms to refer to a concentration: emphasis, focus, track, option. These subspecialties have undergone curricular approval and are in our catalog.
- To reduce confusion, we will use a single term: Concentration. This term is preferred because Banner and Degree Works already use it for this purpose.
- The catalog will state (in a note to the table of undergraduate majors) that concentrations will appear on the transcript.
- Some programs have "sub-specialties within the discipline" that they do not want noted on the transcript (e.g., Humanities, Interdisciplinary Studies). This will be called a "focus". Focuses will not appear on transcripts.
- We have reviewed the current catalog and identified where the terminology needs to be changed. Those changes have been submitted.
- Individual programs will need to update their webpages and advising/promotional materials to reflect the new university-wide terminology.

Process:

- Division chairs in LAS discussed this issue, and developed the proposal for this system. LAS faculty provided feedback via division meetings. College of Education division chairs discussed and endorsed the proposed system.
- Division chairs worked with each academic program to determine if any subspecialties already in the catalog or programmed in degree works were to be designated "concentrations", and thus appear on transcripts. A summary of requested concentrations is also attached, all in LAS. At this time, COE is not requesting any formal concentrations for undergraduate degrees.
- In the near future, a similar proposal for graduate programs will come forward.
