

Faculty Senate Resolution 05-23-17¹

We request that administration work collaboratively with faculty in considering changes to curricular structures, like the 30-60-90 design and sidelining of minors.

As a move toward the substantive restoration of shared governance on curriculum, we call for the General Education Task Force to be given wide latitude to raise questions and make proposals regarding degree structure and the implementation of curriculum.

More specifically:

After completing their work over the summer and fall, the General Education Task Force will submit their proposal for revising common curricular components, including, but not limited to, general education requirements, required minors, B.A. and B.S. requirements, and “free electives”, to the WOU curriculum portal for review by both the Curriculum Committee and the General Education Committee. We also recommend that the task force actively seek input from their faculty colleagues throughout the curriculum development process. Following committee review, the General Education Task Force will present their proposals to Faculty Senate as new business.
